

Renting DVC Points – For Owners & Renters

A calm, clear, beginner-friendly guide for anyone exploring DVC rentals.

Renting Disney Vacation Club (DVC) points can feel confusing at first — whether you're a member thinking about renting out your points, or a guest exploring deluxe stays for less. This guide is designed to be a calm, clear starting point for both sides. No jargon, no overwhelm, just simple explanations and gentle support. Whether you're planning ahead for a family holiday, managing unused points, or looking for a more spacious, SEND-friendly way to stay at Disney, this guide will walk you through everything step-by-step so you can feel confident, informed, and ready to make the choice that works best for you.

Part 1: For DVC Owners — Renting Out Your Points

What Renting Out Points Means

If you're a DVC member and won't use your points this year, you can rent them out. This means:

- You earn money from unused points
- A guest uses your points for their stay
- You make the reservation
- A rental company handles everything else

It's safe, simple, and helps you avoid losing points.

Why Owners Rent Out Their Points

Owners rent out points when:

- They can't travel
- They want to cover maintenance fees
- They have banked points they won't use
- They want guaranteed income
- They don't want points to expire

It's a practical way to make use of points you don't need.

How Renting Out Points Works (Step-by-Step)

1. Tell the rental company you want to rent your points

You share:

- Home resort
- Use year
- Number of points
- Banked/borrowed status

2. They find a renter for you

You don't need to advertise or find guests. They match your points with someone who needs them.

3. You make the reservation

You:

- Log into your DVC account
- Book the stay in the renter's name
- Send the confirmation number

This is your only responsibility.

4. You get paid

Payment is secure and handled by the rental company.

5. The guest enjoys their holiday

You don't manage their stay — the rental company does.

Owner Tips for Smooth Rentals

- Rent early for best matches
- Banked points rent well
- Home resort advantage helps
- Respond quickly
- Keep your login secure

Owner FAQ

Do I get paid before or after booking?

Usually a deposit first, then the balance.

Can renters cancel?

Rentals are non-refundable.

Do I manage the guest?

No — the rental company does.

Can I rent banked points?

Yes.

Part 2: For Guests — Renting Points to Stay at Disney

What Renting Points Means

Renting points lets you stay in Disney's deluxe resorts for 40–60% less than booking direct.

You book using a DVC member's points instead of paying Disney's cash prices.

You get:

- Deluxe accommodation
- Full Disney resort benefits
- Access to My Disney Experience
- Early Entry
- MagicBands (if available)
- Genie+
- Dining reservations

You are a full Disney resort guest.

Why Guests Rent Points

Renting points is perfect for:

- UK families planning school holidays
- SEND families needing space + predictability
- Longer stays
- Deluxe resorts without deluxe prices
- Villas with kitchens + washer/dryer

It's a calmer, more spacious way to stay at Disney.

How Renting Points Works

(Step-by-Step)

1. Choose your resort + dates

If you're unsure, I can help explain availability patterns.

2. Check DVC availability

DVC availability is different from Disney's cash system. It depends on:

- booking windows
- resort demand
- room type
- member points

3. Submit a rental request

You share your dates, resort preferences, and party size.

4. A DVC member books your stay

You receive a Disney confirmation number and link it to My Disney Experience.

5. Pay for your reservation

Rentals are non-refundable, so travel insurance is recommended.

6. Enjoy your deluxe stay

You get all the benefits of a Disney resort guest.

Guest Tips for Smooth Rentals

- Book early for UK school holidays
- Studios go first — 1-bedrooms often appear more
- Easter + October half term = strong availability
- Summer = tight for studios
- SEND families often prefer 1-bedrooms

Guest FAQ

Is renting points safe?

Yes — when done through a reputable rental company.

Can I use My Disney Experience?

Yes.

Can I add dining plans?

Yes.

Can I cancel?

Rentals are non-refundable.

Do I get housekeeping?

You get “trash & towel” service.

SEND-Friendly Notes (Owners + Guests)

For SEND families:

- 1-bedrooms offer quiet space + washer/dryer
- Kitchens help with predictable meals
- Villas are calmer than standard rooms
- Quieter resorts include SSR, OKW, AKL
- High-sensory resorts include Poly + Riviera
- Room requests can be added (not guaranteed)
